

Diane—Flute, Clarinet, Saxophone, Voice and Folk Harp

Diane has studied music at MacPhail Center for the Arts, the University of Minnesota and Augsburg College in Minneapolis, Minnesota. She has been a private teacher of flute, clarinet and saxophone for over 20 years and is also a licensed early childhood Kindermusik educator. Most recently, she has begun to teach vocal and folk harp lessons.

She has been children's choral director for StageCoach Theatre Arts School, Our Savior's Lutheran Church and Rochester Community Education. She also studied at the Canford Summer School for Music in England. Diane has performed with Rochester Civic Music, Rochester Symphony Orchestra and Chorale, Rochester Community Band, Lake of the Isles Community Band in Minneapolis and choirs in Rochester and Minneapolis, Minnesota and Dallas, Texas and was in a performance of Handel's Messiah at Carnegie Hall in New York City.